ADMIRAL BECKLEY.

He Presents a Yachting Cup to Be Won Twice Under Conditions Calculated to Test Sailing Merit.

CONTEST FOR BECKLEY CUP

First Race for Trophy
Will Be Sailed Tomorrow.

The first race for the Admiral Beckley cup will be sailed tomorrow, commencing at 9 a. m.

The race will be sailed over a forty-miles triangular course to the leeward of Honolulu.

The course will be from an imaginary line from Bishop's wharf to the light-house, continuing out of the harbor clearing all the buoys, to a stake-boat off Diamond Head; thence to Barber's Point, returning to Honolulu and finishing inside the bell-buoy.

The entries so far received are: Kamehameha, Kapolei, Gladys, Hawaii, The Paloma and Helene may also start.

The cup must be won twice before becoming the individual property of any yacht-owner.

Heads to Together.

The next regular meeting of the Diamond Head Athletic Club will be held at the Y. M. C. A. hall on Tuesday evening next at 7:30 o'clock.

No Cricket Today.

On account of today being the last day of the month, there will be no cricket match at Makiki this afternoon. There will be practice at the nets, however, commencing at 2:30 p. m.

The Boxing Scandal

As might have been anticipated, the O'Meara affidavit touching on the inner workings of the local prize-ring created a profound sensation in local sporting circles yesterday.

An Advertiser reporter called on Sullivan and McFadden yesterday afternoon and asked them what they would care to say on the subject.

The reporter received a brusque answer and was told that he should have submitted the affidavit to Sullivan and McFadden before publishing it.

Later on Sullivan called at the Advertiser office and made the following statement:

"I have nothing to say about it. If people want to believe such stuff as that, all right. It is the way a dub takes to get even, that's all. There's nothing in it at all."

JACK SAYS "WE'RE BLOWING"

McFadden, on being asked if, on account of his relations with Sullivan, he cared to make any statement as to O'Meara's affidavit, said:

"We're going to blow in a few weeks, and if people care to believe O'Meara, let 'em do so."

BILLY WOODS IS INDIGNANT

"Pneumatic" Billy Woods, the veteran pugilist, who has fought and beaten the best men in the business, and who has refereed the last few fights held in Honolulu, has the following to say in the matter of O'Meara's affidavit:

"You have asked me for my opinion of the letter purporting to have been signed by Dick O'Meara, published in this morning's Advertiser, and, in compliance with your request, all I have to say is that I have followed the fighting game for twenty years and this is the first time that crookedness in any manner has been attributed to me.

"My record here and elsewhere stands out plain and straightforward before the sporting world and I take it that something more than the vicious vapors of a self-confessed attempted blackmailer is needed to convince the public that in a matter so puerile in a financial way I would think for a moment of giving any man alive the opportunity of catching me in a dirty trick.

"O'Meara has made a statement which I declare to be absolutely and maliciously false and made out of whole cloth."

YOUNG NELSON HEARD FROM

"Young" Nelson, when interviewed by an Advertiser reporter yesterday, said:

"Yes, I have been told that I was beaten by McFadden using lighter gloves than me.

"A week ago a fellow in a local saloon showed me two pair of gloves. One was heavier than the other. He told me that they were the gloves used in my fight with Jack McFadden and said that the heavier pair were foisted on me. I've heard other people say the same thing."

PADDY RYAN HAS IDEAS

"I know nothing of this doped glove proposition," said Paddy Ryan yesterday. "I watched the Sullivan-McFadden fight closely, however, and am strongly of the opinion that the negro should have got nothing worse than a draw. Had I refereed the contest I should certainly have called it a draw."

DEMON SILVA GOT WISE

Silva, the Punchbowl Demon, told an Advertiser reporter many interesting things concerning the fistie game in Honolulu.

"At the last fight," said Silva, "I was near the ring when Young Heine and Ah Sam came in for the first preliminary. McFadden was referee and I heard him say to Heine, 'Grab these gloves, they're knock-out gloves.' Heine got the good gloves and won the fight. The next go was between 'Kid' Sharkey and 'Greek' Anderson.

DOG MAN'S KIND WORDS

American Kennel Club Official Writes to Littlejohn.

C. T. Littlejohn, secretary of the Hawaiian Kennel Club, is in receipt of the following letter of thanks and appreciation from J. P. Norman, secretary of the Pacific Advisory Committee of the American Kennel Club: Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 18, 1906.

C. T. Littlejohn Esq., Secretary H. K. C., Honolulu, T. H.

My Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your favor of the 11th inst. and am glad to see that my recommendation of Mr. Bradshaw has been justified by the result, and still more so to learn that you have a successful show, both from the financial and artistic standpoints. There can be nothing more satisfactory to your good self and to your colleagues than to know that your efforts have as a sequence, the awakening of a more vivid and intelligent interest in the thoroughbred canine, than which nothing quite so good and responsive to affection exists on earth, next to the human, and even as to that I sometimes "have ma doots."

I enclose formal receipt for the list-fulness has been made ever since the epidemic of robbery set in. Native policemen, disguised as cowboys, have been posted in the outskirts of the town where they while away their time as best they can. One of them lay in the bushes back of Punchbowl the other day and woke up in time to detect an Asiatic, employed by Jared Smith at the U. S. Experiment Station, walking along the highway. Pouncing on the poor fellow the sleuth arrested him and took him to the station. There they let the Asiatic go. Next day he "detective" hid in the same place and nabbed the man again. That time he took the puzzled laborer to Jared Smith, who identified him and demanded to know why his farm hands were not let alone. The local Sherlock Holmes said it was because the man looked suspicious.

I hope your next show will be even more successful than your initial one, and I want you to understand that you are to call on me for anything in my power to do, that will help you to attain the desideratum.

Please accept for yourself and colleagues the thanks of this committee and in particular my own for the whole-souled and sportsmanlike manner, in which you treated Mr. Vredenburg during his stay. He has assured me that the hospitality he enjoyed has left an indelible impression on his mind and heart, and his evident sincerity has likewise impressed us, his very good friends.

One word to conclude: next time let me have your classification sooner for your own sakes. With kindest regards and hoping to see you in San Francisco.

Sincerely yours,
J. P. NORMAN.

to be the gloves used by "Spider" Welch when Sullivan beat him.

Instead of being the regulation five-ounce gloves, they were fully an ounce or two more in weight and had been opened at the wrist and repadded. The gloves were regular pillows and to knock a man out with them would be next door to an impossibility.

Two other pairs of gloves were also shown the reporters and represented to be the gloves with which McFadden finished Nelson.

The mitts said to have been used by Nelson were regular five-ounce gloves, while the others were much lighter and had the padding removed from where the knuckles would be ridged when the hand was bent.

Notwithstanding that the gloves were ostensibly one set, the laces were different colored, one being green and the other red and white.

ALFRED CARTER'S HOME PLUNDERED

In spite of the attempts of the police to hush the matter up, it has leaked out that the home of Alfred Carter, at the corner of Judd and Liliha streets, was entered and ransacked by burglars a few days ago. Bureau drawers were emptied and a lot of stuff removed. The crime, it appears, was committed in broad daylight.

As usual, there have been no arrests, though a pretence of detective watchfulness has been made ever since the epidemic of robbery set in. Native policemen, disguised as cowboys, have been posted in the outskirts of the town where they while away their time as best they can. One of them lay in the bushes back of Punchbowl the other day and woke up in time to detect an Asiatic, employed by Jared Smith at the U. S. Experiment Station, walking along the highway. Pouncing on the poor fellow the sleuth arrested him and took him to the station. There they let the Asiatic go. Next day he "detective" hid in the same place and nabbed the man again. That time he took the puzzled laborer to Jared Smith, who identified him and demanded to know why his farm hands were not let alone. The local Sherlock Holmes said it was because the man looked suspicious.

FEDERAL BUILDING

It is noticeable that all the offers made are within the price of $150,000 which the government is authorized to pay by the act of Congress. The government will not necessarily take the lot which is offered at the lowest price. It will taken into consideration the availability of the various sites offered and then proceed to "dicker" for the one that seems best. The purchase will not necessarily be confined to the lots offered. If none of those seem to meet the requirements the government can go into the open market like any individual and try to purchase what it wants. In the transactions during the summer for the purchase of sites for public buildings, it has occasionally happened that offers of land have been received and considered after the formal opening of bids.

Who the Treasury Department's agent for the selection of the site will be has not been determined. It has been suggested that ex-Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Horace A. Taylor, might be picked for this work. Mr. Taylor recently resigned after many years service in the department and has already started on a two years' trip around the world. He has not left the mainland and, in fact, one of the treasury officials talked with him last week, about undertaking to look over the offers of ground at Honolulu. Mr. Taylor is going to California in a few days to remain for about two months and does not expect to reach Honolulu till about December 1.

During much of the time he was in the Treasury Mr. Taylor had supervision of the public building work and therefore is specially well qualified for recommending to the department which site at Honolulu should be selected.

ERNEST G. WALKER.

ANDERSON PUT NEXT

"Greek" Anderson, who was knocked out by Kid Sharkey in the second round of a preliminary to the Sullivan-McFadden fight, said yesterday:

"I thought that the gloves were doped ever since my bout with Sharkey. When he hit me it was like with a piece of wood. Many friends have told me that the gloves I used were the ordinary size, while Kid Sharkey had on knock-out gloves.

"Young Heine told me to look out for the little gloves, after he fought Ah Sam, but Silva was too quick and got hold of them first."
